How to get viticulture resilient against climate change?

Prof. Dr. Peter Nick

Prof. Dr. Peter Nick is professor and the director of the Institute of Botany at the Karlsruher Institut für Technologie (KIT) Germany.

Prof. Nick received his doctorate from the University of Freiburg in 1990. His laboratory works on cellular biotechnology, plant stress, and applied biodiversity. A focus has been on grapevine immunity and the role of the plant cytoskeleton. He has published 166 SCI papers, e.g. in Nat Commun, New Phytol, J Exp Bot, Plant Cell & Env. In addition, Prof. Nick is editor-in-chief of the cell biology journal PROTOPLASMA (Springer-Nature).
